

Any proposed law should apply only to states that have no law in place that effectively relieves us of unwanted phone solicitations. Indiana now has such a law that has greatly improved our quality of life. It would be appreciated if that law was not diminished.